Presenters: Dr. Lee Ann Jung, Clinical Professor at San Diego State University; Dr. Judy Elliott, former Chief Academic Officer of the Los Angeles Unified School District; Somerlee Monigan, Training and Consultation Specialist at the Boggs Center on Developmental Disabilities; Dr. Ellen Frede, Senior Co-Director at the National Institute for Early Education Research; Amy Hornbeck, Research Project Manager at the National Institute for Early Education Research; Amy Howie, Director of Project SUCCESS in Indiana; Dr. Jennifer Meller, PCG Subject Matter Expert and former Director of Operations in the Office of Specialized Instructional Services, School District of Philadelphia; Matthew Korobkin, PCG Subject Matter Expert and former Special Education Officer for Strategic Planning and Evaluation, Delaware Department of Education

Creating an inclusive educational setting is a complex and multi-faceted process that is central to teaching, learning and leading. In this session, join state leaders and national experts to learn more about the key issues connected to this process including:

- developing a climate and culture of shared responsibility;
- making the standards accessible to students at varying instructional levels;
- inclusive early childhood programs; person-centered planning;
- the Transformational Model: Special Education data driven decision making;
- inclusion, leadership, and the law; and leading through MTSS.

 Subscription Model Eligible: Anyone in your school or district can use an individual session for any FEA professional learning opportunity, as well as designated legal workshops offered through LEGAL ONE, between July 1, 2018 and June 30, 2019.
