

FEA's New Jersey Teacher Leader Certification Program (NJTLC) Information Session

Do you have 30 minutes to learn how teacher leadership can help your school or district soar?

You know who the teacher leaders are in your school or district. Here's how you can help them earn the new NJDOE teacher leader endorsement they need to maximize their personal goals and, at the same time, help yourself build a leadership pipeline. Developing leadership capacity through a teacher leadership model contributes to student and school success. Teacher leadership is a potentially powerful strategy to promote effective, collaborative teaching practices in schools that lead to increased student achievement, improved decision making at the school and district level, and create a dynamic teaching profession for the 21st century.

Knowledgeable and skilled leaders who focus on excellence are critical for district/school effectiveness to meet ever-demanding needs, especially in these pandemic times, and ever more so as schools and districts navigate future in-person and digital learning options once schools open again. Opportunities to broaden knowledge, skills, and competencies that teachers need to assume leadership roles in their schools, districts, and the profession optimizes district advancement, school improvement, and student success. Districts and schools utilizing a teacher leadership pipeline model are better poised to navigate potential vacancies as they occur and this form of leadership can be distinguished from, but work in tandem with, formal administrative leadership roles to support good teaching and promote student learning.
